These in-class presentations provide a creative approach toward activating the imaginations of youth through musical activities focused on classroom engagement and discovery of classical music. # SIDE-BY-SIDE CONCERT AND CONCERTO COMPETITION

(GRADES 7-12)

The New World Symphony is pleased to offer advanced young instrumentalists grades 7-12 an opportunity to perform in its annual Side-by-Side Concert. If selected through audition, students will play alongside New World Symphony Fellows, under the direction of MTT, developing a musical working relationship as they prepare and perform orchestral works of the highest caliber. Through the same auditions, students can also earn an opportunity to perform as a soloist with the ensemble.

These auditions are open to advanced string, woodwind, brass, piano and percussion students, grades 7-12. All instrumentalists selected will be engaged for the Side-by-Side Concert performance on Saturday, April 28, 2018.

Because of the high demand for auditions, applicants will be asked to submit a pre-screening video with their application materials. The registration deadline for video submission is Sunday, January 14, 2018. No late applications will be considered. For more information on application requirements, and to register please visit: www.nws.edu/sidebyside.

Students selected for an in-person audition will be notified the week of January 29, 2018.

Individual auditions will take place on Sunday, February 25, 2018 at the New World Center. Students may bring an accompanist of their choosing or a pianist will be provided on audition day.

REHEARSAL OBSERVATION

Rehearsal Observations offer the unique opportunity of viewing the inner workings of a symphony orchestra. During the visits, students and community groups will witness a working rehearsal with internationally renowned conductors and soloists. The observation requires that groups remain in the performance hall for approximately 75 minutes. Prior to the rehearsal, groups will meet with Fellows of the New World Symphony to learn more about works to be rehearsed and answer questions relating to their specific orchestral instrument

Rehearsal Observations are held on pre-selected Thursday and Friday mornings from 9:30 AM to 11:15 AM (please see the reservation form for available dates). Availability is first come, first serve and is at the discretion of NWS staff and artists.

Registration Form available at: www.nws.edu/rehearsalobservations.

Deadline for Reservation: Reservation forms must be received at least one month in advance of desired Rehearsal Observation date.

IV. Community Programs MEDELLÍN MUSICIAN EXCHANGE

During the 2011-12 season, the New World Symphony in partnership with Fundación SaludArte and NWS Board Member Tanya Brillembourg, inaugurated a unique collaboration with the Academia Filarmónica de Medellín (AFMED), now called IberAcademy. NWS Fellows travel to Medellín, Colombia to offer instrumental coaching, private lessons, master classes and side-by-side performances with the young musicians of IberAcademy. Multiple times during the season, IberAcademy musicians travel to the New World Center in Miami Beach for several days of additional coachings, lessons, chamber music sessions and performances with NWS Fellows. With the support of Skype and Internet2 connectivity, supplemental work with the Medellín musicians occurs throughout the season. Throughout the course our work together over 45 Colombian musicians have continued on to graduate studies in North America or Europe or are performing and teaching as professionals in Medellín. This cross-cultural exchange has proven of enormous value to NWS Fellows in their role as 21st-century musical ambassadors, advocates and engaged teachers.

MUSICLAB

Introduced during the 2009-10 season, MusicLab is a partnership and investment in the music education of Miami-Dade County students. Each seasons' residencies bring the expertise of New World Symphony Fellows directly into the classroom, giving students a hands-on experience in the field of music performance, alongside a variety of activities at the performance hall or around Miami-Dade. In providing this service, the New World Symphony is building a better community—one that values the benefits of an arts education as part of the public school curriculum.

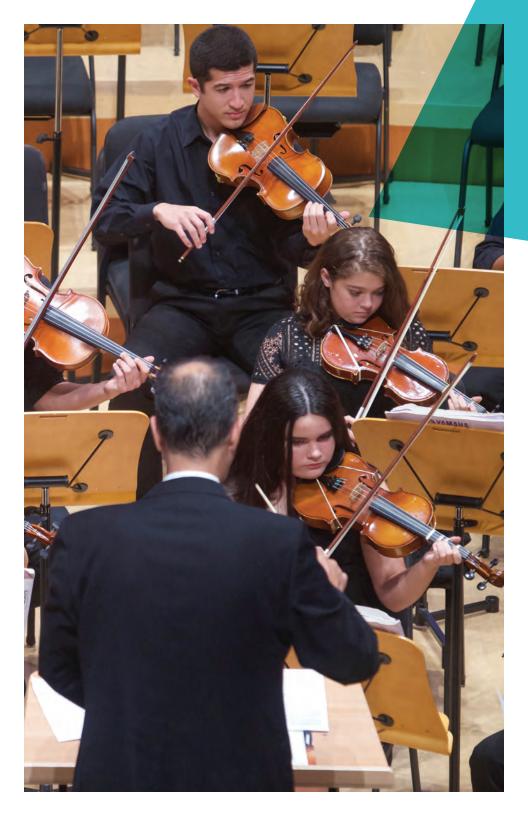

Guided by the NWS Fellows, local students develop new skills and a deeper understanding of their own potential in the realm of music and beyond. As mentors, NWS Fellows gain knowledge that will enhance their future capacity as teachers, community leaders and advocates as they go on to win jobs in orchestras and ensembles worldwide. MusicLab not only makes a difference in the lives of its student and Fellow participants today, but is also an investment in their futures.

This program currently serves students of four public schools and programs in the Miami-Dade area: Ruth K. Broad K-8 Center, Miami Beach Senior High School, Miami Northwestern Senior High School and Miami Music Project.

Students of all participating ensembles will perform and share the stage at the New World Center on Friday, May 11, 2018 during our MusicLab Finale Concert.

Find more information online: www.nws.edu/musiclab.
